PRESS RELEASES--1970 C

Vienna; 1 September 1901 (AHP):

When Foreign Minister Count Berchthold was asked in his weekly news-conference what his favorite proverb was, he replied: "It's an old Turkish one that goes something like this, 'Don't go out to fight the dragon without wearing shoes.'"

Gorna Dzhumaya; 3 September 1901 (BIP):

Ivan Scarface Artaxya, leader of the Bulgarian Resistance, today replied to the Austrian Minister's proverb: "My old Transylvanian grandmother used to say, 'An invader is an invader no matter what color shoes he wears--or doesn't wear.' And I can only add that we Bulgarians dislike all foreigners, but if necessary, we will call on our Russian brothers to fulfill their promise of aid and protection of all slavish interests. The January 7th address by the Foreign Minister of Russia, Prince Sykocski holds out hope to all oppressed Bulgarians!"

There are still some openings for R-2, the second regular Diplomacy game. To help fill this game, I have decided to offer a free place in R-2 to the winner of the first ATLANTIS contest.

This contest is open to everyone -- and anyone can win!

Contest #1

Simply guess the number of miles my car has gone in its lifetime. It is a 1963 Dodge Custom 880 wagon.

Hint: I drive to school every day, plus make many long trips.

The person who comes closest to the number of miles the odometer shows on 24 March 1970 wins.

Imperialism XV

The rules for Imperialism XV (Rod Walker's revision of Imperialism VIII) are being sent out with this issue of ATLANTIS. The maps will be available in the near future -- as soon as I finish putting them all on stencils. One game will be opened in Imperialism XV, with the understanding that only one will open. The deadlines will probably be every 4 weeks, instead of 2, due to the complexity of the game.

One game of Imperialism VIII will open once R-2 has begun. There are still openings in R-2.

If anyone thinks that the deadlines for any current game are too fast, please contact me.

Oh yes, players please check for errors in each game -- I have been liberally partaking of medicinal alcohol (Canadian Club) whilst adjudicating these games.
